

YARD WORKERS FEAR STRIKE IS PACKERS' AIM

Representatives of Men Whose Wages Are Cut Call Council of War.

APPEAL TO WASHINGTON

Charge Packers Have Meat Stored in Anticipation of Walkouts.

BULLETIN

By United Press Leased Wire Omaha, Neb.—The basic 8-hour day will be insisted on by unions of packing plant employees if the decision of the executive committee of the union, meeting here Wednesday, is accepted. The executive committee was in secret session during the morning considering the wage cuts and readjustments in hours of work announced by packers Tuesday. Their decisions were to be submitted to a meeting of the general conference of union leaders late Wednesday.

Omaha, Neb.—"To strike or not to strike" was the question facing representatives of 400 unions of packing plant employees meeting here Wednesday.

Union leaders, angered by what they termed the arbitrary action of the packers in cutting wages 12 1/2 per cent and abolishing the basic eight hour day, intimated there was strong possibility of a strike being called. Dennis Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' union, declared that the conference would probably urge the packers to submit the proposed wage cut and readjustment in working conditions to arbitration.

"The packers oppose this step because they declared their action was an 'economic necessity' and had to be taken at once. Union leaders declared that 90 per cent of the men employed in packing plants were unionized and would strike if the call was issued.

May Help Packers

Some union representatives declared the large amount of unemployment now existing would make it comparatively easy for the packers to fill the places of the strikers. Others advanced the claim the union might be playing into the packers' hands by striking. They said the packers might want a strike in order to shut down their plants for sixty days and dispose of stocks bought on a declining market which they now have on hand, on a rising market.

There was also considerable doubt among the labor leaders as to whether public sentiment would be with the men if a strike was called. They do not believe the strike could be won without the public's good will.

The general attitude of most of the delegates was that there is practically no alternative for the workmen except to call a strike and open negotiations with the packers afterward.

District President McCreesh of Spokane, Wash., however, pointed out that the men still have an appeal to the secretary of Labor.

"Secretary of Labor Wilson was responsible for the agreement which made Judge Alschuler arbitrator," said McCreesh.

"I believe we should put the matter up to his successor, James J. Davis. As secretary of Labor, Davis should take the matter in charge and decide whether packers are to take things into their own hands."

DEFEAT EFFORT TO REPEAL TAX OFFSET

Redistribution of Income Tax Money May Be Way Out of Difficulty.

By United Press Leased Wire Madison—The defeat of the personal property offset repeal in the assembly committee on taxation, means a fight on the floor of the house, according to C. E. Hanson, assemblyman from River Falls, and author of the bill.

The committee stood five to two against repeal of the law.

The committee's stand forecasts the fate of other taxation bills, according to legislators. The Hanson bill was the first important one considered and members pointed out that an unfavorable committee report was the likely fate of all tax boosting measures to come.

The Caldwell bill calling for a redistribution of the income tax revenue on a more equitable basis to the state, may be seized upon by the committee as a way out of the financial difficulty.

Income tax revenue is now distributed 70 per cent to the municipality; 20 per cent to the county and 10 per cent to the state.

"My bill would give 40 per cent of the total to the municipalities, 40 per cent to the state and 20 per cent to the counties. The state pays all costs of collecting and investigating and is not getting a fair portion of the tax," said Assemblyman Caldwell of Lodi.

The state's share of the $6,000,000 raised by income tax was $600,000. Under the Caldwell bill the state's share would be $2,400,000.

PENNSY ROAD WILL CUT ALL SALARIES

Philadelphia, Pa.—Immediate reduction in salaries of 215,000 employees of the Pennsylvania railroad was announced here Wednesday by the board of directors. The amount of the reduction has not been determined, it was stated, but they shall bear an equitable relationship to the increases in pay since Jan. 1, 1918.

All grades from labor to officials will be affected by the reduction.

Big Problems Confront Harding

LITTLE HOPE FOR SUCCESS OF ANTI SOVIET UPRISING

Anti-Red Leaders Believe President Revolt Will Be Unsuccessful.

By United Press Leased Wire Paris.—"It is impossible for the present revolt to overthrow the bolshevik," former Mayor Roundnef of Moscow, declared in an interview here Wednesday.

Roundnef, a former member of the Russian constituent assembly and an anti-bolshevik, agreed with other Russian leaders, however, in the belief that the Kronstadt and Petrograd uprisings are the forerunners of rebellions which eventually will overthrow the soviets.

The bolsheviks have too strong a hold on the country's military resources to be broken by a single blow," Roundnef said.

"But this is the first blow against the Red dictatorship and nothing can now check the Russian masses. The soviets are doomed."

May Set up New Czar

Warsaw.—The Kronstadt uprising against the bolsheviks probably will fail, Boris Savinkoff, Kerensky's war minister, admitted in an interview here Wednesday.

Savinkoff predicted, however, that a peasant uprising in central Russia will occur this spring and that the workers will be joined by the Red army overthrowing the bolsheviks.

A monarchy or a democracy will be established after the revolt, he said, with the probability that a peasant czar will be crowned.

Fortress Is Afire

Helsingfors.—Parts of Kronstadt, the island stronghold of Russian rebels, were reported aflame Wednesday following long bombardment by soviet guns.

Unconfirmed reports here, however, indicated further gains for the rebels, one of the most important stating that the garrison at Smolinsk, 200 miles west of Moscow, had hoisted the white flag and declared for a constituent assembly. It was also stated that every important garrison in the Petrograd region had joined the revolutionaries.

NO CLEWS TO SLAYERS IN POLITICAL FEUD

Chicago.—The "bloody nineteenth" ward was patrolled by scores of special policemen Wednesday guarding against further murder in the political feud which has flared up anew.

Little progress has been made by authorities in running down the murderers of the two men who were leaders in the fight for election of Alderman John Powers. Five suspects were taken into custody but later released.

Authorities Wednesday clung to the belief that the murders were committed by gunmen imported from New York. Alderman Powers declared Wednesday that 25 leaders in his campaign were marked for death and had received threatening letters.

Anthony D'Andrea, who opposed Powers in the election, cried when informed of the double murder. D'Andrea was defeated but a recount is in progress now. If the recount fails to show him a winner, D'Andrea said he would retire from politics.

AMERICAN WOMEN SMOKE NEARLY 20 MILLION FAGS

Washington, D. C.—American women now are consuming nearly 20,000,000 cigarettes a year, receipts of the internal revenue bureau indicated Wednesday.

Women were blamed for an increase of 60 per cent in the manufacture and sale of cigarettes in the United States.

More than 50,000,000 cigarettes were bought in the fiscal year just ended for which the treasury department now has complete reports on the tax collected. In the previous year cigarette consumption was only 30,000,000. This shows an increase of 66 2/3 per cent.

Women, officials say, probably are not entirely responsible for the increase, but they are blamed in the main.

Women began to take up the cigarette habit in earnest in the United States early in 1919, probably as a result of the war influence.

During 1920 the government received $151,000,000 in cigarette taxes, an increase of nearly $61,000,000 over 1919. The tax on cigarettes is 53 per cent.

FOUR FARMER LABOR BILLS ARE DEFEATED

Assemblyman Catlin Leads Attack on Constitutional Amendments.

ENGAGE IN HOT DEBATE

Appleton Man Declares Wisconsin Objects to North Dakota Laws.

By United Press Leased Wire Madison—Four proposed constitutional amendments, representing the views of the farmer-labor alliance in the assembly, were killed Wednesday by the newly organized conservative wing led by Mark Catlin, assemblyman from Appleton.

Among the measures indefinitely postponed were:

Stolowski resolution providing for state owned and operated warehouses, storage plants and grain elevators.

C. E. Hanson resolution providing for a state owned printing plant.

The Dahl resolution providing for state aid for settlers in northern Wisconsin.

The only bill surviving the steam roller tactics engineered by Catlin was the Killian child labor bill which prevents alluring advertisements and solicitations of school children to enter industry. Catlin objected to this bill but his motion to indefinitely postpone the measure lost, 33 to 57.

During the debate, Catlin was charged with being a "bell weather for the interests."

During the debate the two floor leaders, Catlin and John Dahl, came in constant conflict.

Speaking of the Stolowski resolution, Catlin said, when asked by a socialist member, his reason for opposing the resolution, the state was passing through a critical reconstruction period and this was no time to place additional tax burdens upon the people.

Rural credits legislation met a similar fate.

"The farmers of Wisconsin do not need rural credits," Catlin said.

"Wisconsin farmers are in desperate need of credit now," retorted Dahl.

This measure follows that of South Dakota and we will have time to watch the effect of the system there before we can put through our program."

"South Dakota is too near North Dakota," Catlin said, "and we do not want any of that in Wisconsin. Fifty banks failed in North Dakota because they refused to do what the head of the credit system told them to do. We don't want one man in control of the Wisconsin banks."

The vote on the Stolowski resolution was 52 to 38.

While the assembly was defeating measures coming from socialist or non-partisan league origin, the senate adopted the Arnold home rule bill for Wisconsin cities by a vote of 25 to 5. The senate also voted favorably on the Czerwinski bill providing the compensation of legislators from $500 to $1,500.

While in a killing mood, the assembly defeated the Peterson bill barring defeated primary candidates from running as independents in the general election. Peterson fought for his bill on the ground it was to prevent unfair political tactics.

HARDING'S PRIVATE DOC WILL HAVE REGULAR JOB

Washington.—In addition to naming Dr. C. E. Sawyer, his personal physician, a brigadier general, President Harding has asked him to undertake a survey of the public health agencies with a view to increasing efficiency. It was announced at the White House Wednesday.

Dr. C. E. Sawyer is head of the White Oaks farm, a homeopathic institution at Marion for the treatment of nervous disorders. He also has conducted a general practice in Marion for many years. He has been the Harding family physician and has brought Mrs. Harding through several serious illnesses. It was largely on her account, it is stated, that he abandoned his desire to remain at White Oaks. During the war Dr. Sawyer served on the medical section of the council of national defense. He is 62 years old.

DEMAND HARDING'S IDEAS ON BIG NAVY

New Naval Secretary Begins Work on Proposals to Be Given Congress.

Washington.—Congressional leaders have begun to demand that President Harding define his idea of "an adequate navy."

The president's references to America's policy, they say, have only been general and before the new naval appropriation bill is introduced in the house they wish to know more definitely where the president stands. Already their insistence has brought results.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, it was learned Wednesday, will enter this week into a detailed study of the naval bill which died in the senate with the old congress. He will confer with naval experts chiefs of the various bureaus and prepare a summary of the salient points which he believes should be included in the new bill.

This report, it is understood, either will be submitted to the president after its completion or will be the outgrowth of conferences between Harding and Denby.

Denby intends to review the situation before the extra session of congress. When the session convenes the house will conduct new hearings on the naval bill. Members of the house naval committee believe that at that time the new administration will define its attitude on:

- 1.—The prospects of a disarmament conference.
- 2.—Continuance of the 1916 building program and the desirability of new ships not yet provided for.
- 3.—How the lessons of the war, including the use of aircraft and submarines are to be incorporated in our naval policy.

DON'T WANT HARDING'S DOC TO BE A GENERAL

Washington—President Harding Wednesday appeared confronted by the sort of congressional criticism that faced Woodrow Wilson when he made his famous "personal appointments."

Many of these appointments by Wilson notably that of Dr. C. E. Sawyer, his personal physician as an admiral, caused sharp fights in the senate before confirmation.

The same criticisms that marked the fight on Grayson Wednesday followed announcement that Harding will appoint Dr. C. E. Sawyer, his physician, as a brigadier general. Senators, however, refused to talk for publication.

Allies May Take Half Of Germany's Exports As Payment Of War Fine

British Leader Reveals Plan to Collect Reparations From Berlin.

WANT SEAPORTS BLOCKADED

Allied Armies Have Completed Subjugation of Cities Across Rhine.

By United Press Leased Wire London—Means the allies will take to extract the required reparations from Germany were revealed Wednesday by Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in commons.

Bonar Law announced that a bill will be introduced shortly providing for the seizure of 50 per cent of the value of German exports. He stated that immediate passage of the bill will be urged since trade with Germany will be suspended for the time being. With the first anger against the dietary tactics of the German delegation subsiding now, an insistent question has arisen as to how allied occupation of additional territory is to compel payment of the German indemnity. It was believed generally that the proposed customs tax will yield only a comparatively small amount of money.

It was pointed out also that while the Rhine district is militarily guarded to prevent customs running, there is now no guard at the German seaports. The necessity of seizing these ports has been urged upon some government officials.

Military and naval activity will be expensive, possibly consuming a great share of the money gained through the customs. From French sources it was learned that even more extensive invasion of Germany is being urged in the hope that Germany at least will agree to paying something like the great sum demanded by the allies.

Give up All Arms

With the Allied Armies in Germany.—Surrender of all German arms in the occupied areas was demanded Wednesday by General Caucher, commanding.

Strict search of all houses will follow failure to deliver weapons to the military, he said.

German police were permitted to retain their bayonets and revolvers.

Military prisoners were taken against any possible uprising, despite the weak attitude of the German population.

Airplanes in relays droned over the occupied territory, observers watching closely for any suspicious gathering or activity.

Officers were housed in hotels and some of the public buildings. The two main hotels were seized as quarters for commanders of the various units.

General Degoutte, under whose supervision the occupation maneuvers were carried out, installed himself in the famous art academy in Dusseldorf. There the general received municipal and provincial authorities to read them his proclamation.

"The German authorities, serious faced but without any sign of resentment listened respectfully to the reading of the order which declared that the allies had no animus against the population but were concerned only with forcing the German government to observe the terms of the peace treaty.

The populations of Duisburg, Ruhrort and Düsseldorf, as well as those of the outlying small towns, evinced much the same attitude as their representatives.

Allied officers quickly took possession of the German customs houses, immediately impounding all the currency found in them in order to prevent its shipment to the interior of Germany. The usual customs activities proceeded with allied representatives acting as guards, inspectors and officers. In some cases the former officials were retained to carry on work under strict allied supervision.

Germans Are Exultant

Berlin—German politicians, even the pacifists, exulted Wednesday over "outwitting the allies" by leading them to violate the Versailles treaty.

Professor Walter Schuecking, noted as a pacifist leader, declared the allies unquestionably were wrong in occupying German territory and thereby breaking treaty provisions.

German experts decided after long discussion that Germany would make no bid to resume reparations conferences. The experts are discussing means of relief for residents of the occupied area who may be in need.

MARQUARD'S FORMER SPOUSE TO WED AGAIN

Minneapolis, Minn.—Blossom Marquard and Benjamin Giesenhof obtained a marriage license here Wednesday.

Blossom Marquard, known on the stage as Blossom Seeley, was divorced from Rube Marquard, baseball player of world series fame, some time ago.

Mr. Giesenhof is Penny Field, Miss Seeley's vaudeville partner for many years.

They were to be wed this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Julius Roem of a sister of the groom.

GRAND JURY MAY PROBE MILWAUKEE'S POLICE

Milwaukee.—A grand jury investigation of the Milwaukee detective department loomed Wednesday following the forced resignation of Captain John T. Sullivan.

Sullivan tendered his resignation, effective April 1, but Mayor Daniel W. Hoan demanded an immediate resignation, under threat of charges to be filed with the police and fire commission. Sullivan quit.

Harry McCrory, a member of the force since 1885 and placed at an obscure sub-station by Sullivan, was named acting captain.

STROUD WILL ENFORCE DRY LAW IN WISCONSIN

By United Press Leased Wire Milwaukee.—Henry M. Stroud, head of the department of justice here, will have charge of prohibition enforcement under a ruling made in Washington, according to information here Wednesday. The action means abolishment of the office of Bert P. Herzog, group chief here, and J. A. Simpson, enforcement group chief at Madison.

"Whether Stroud will have charge of enforcement throughout the entire state is not known."

Nemesis Of Slayer On Trail Of Clara Smith

Mrs. Jake Hamon Retains "Jim-mie" O'Brien To Help Send Alleged Slayer of Her Husband to the Gallows.

By United Press Leased Wire Ardmore, Okla.—Jimmie O'Brien pulled into Ardmore Wednesday wearing a red necktie and carrying a noose under his arm.

With him was Mrs. Jake L. Hamon who came here to demand death for the woman she claims broke up her home and killed her husband.

O'Brien, a former assistant state's attorney in Chicago, is Mrs. Hamon's attorney.

"I'm going to do all in my power to avenge my husband's death," said Mrs. Hamon.

"I brought Mr. O'Brien because he has a reputation for getting convictions. I'm going the limit to get Clara Smith Hamon fully punished for the home she wrecked and the life she took."

Mrs. Hamon will be the star witness for the state when Clara Smith Hamon, charged with slaying Jake L. Hamon, goes on trial Thursday.

"She stole Jake from me, the mother of his two children, and sent me into exile," continued Mrs. Hamon.

"Then she shot him down. Before the bars of justice I'll demand the limit for this woman."

O'Brien's avowed business in life is to convict those charged with murder. He came here, hired by Mrs. Hamon for the purpose of "getting" Clara Smith Hamon. O'Brien earned the name of "Ropes" O'Brien because the skillful way he aligned the noose around men's necks during his argument before juries. He always wears a red necktie at a murder trial—that's the reason he came into Ardmore with one on.

When Mrs. Jake Hamon hired "Ropes" O'Brien, it meant that she was going through with the case—that she had resolved "vengeance is mine."

MANY CITIES TO BE REPRESENTED AT C. OF C. MEET

Noted Speaker Here March 15 Attracting Attention All Over the State.

START STORY ON PAGE 1 THEN INSIDE

When neighboring cities begin clamoring for reservations in numbers that would fill the banquet hall at the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening, it is evident that a highly popular speaker is to be here in the person of Allen D. Albert. The chamber is acting with reserve in inviting outside members until the number of Appleton members who plan to attend is learned. Reservations are due by Saturday.

Secretary Hugh G. Corbett has received a letter from Milwaukee saying that a delegation is coming to the banquet to hear Mr. Albert. Neenan asks reservations for at least 50. Marshfield has already written about attendance, and letters from other cities are coming in every mail.

Many Appleton women are interested in hearing Mr. Albert's address on "Forces That Make Cities," because he touches upon many subjects in which they are interested, concerning civic welfare. The chamber has therefore arranged to accommodate any women who wish to be present, providing they reserve places at the office of the chamber by Saturday. Many of the members intend to bring their wives.

Time to Wake Up

"All of our own members who have not made reservation for the dinner ought to wake up and realize the importance of this event," said Secretary Corbett. "The capacity of the Langstadt-Meyer building, where the dinner is to be served by Appleton Women's club is limited to three or four hundred, and we want to fill it. We want to make this one of the most enthusiastic gatherings ever held for the good of Appleton, and I would urge

SPANISH PREMIER IS ASSASSINATED

Madrid.—Extra precautions were taken Wednesday to guard King Alfonso and members of the royal family. In the belief that attempts might be made to kill them, following assassination of Premier Dato by syndicalists.

Madrid.—Formation of a new cabinet was held in abeyance Wednesday pending the funeral of Eduardo Dato, premier assassinated late Tuesday as he left the senate.

Twenty-seven explosive bullets struck the premier as his automobile was pursued down the Calle Sorano by three motorcyclists.

Police said the assassination was the work of syndicalists.

Dato was followed by the motorcyclists as he left the government building. As they turned into the Calle Sorano the men opened fire. The premier was struck in the face by one of the first shots and his jaw was shattered.

The chauffeur, bending low over the wheel, was uninjured and made full speed for a hospital. Dato, however, was dead long before reaching the surgeons.

The three assassins escaped.

FIREMEN RESCUED SEVEN

Milwaukee.—Seven persons, trapped in their rooms, when fire broke out in a building here Tuesday night, were rescued and carried down ladders by firemen. The blaze, thought to have started in the basement, caused damage estimated at $3,000.

COLOMBIAN TREATY IS BEFORE SENATE

Harding's First Message Urges Ratification of Pact With Latins.

By United Press Leased Wire Washington, D. C.—The senate will decide Thursday whether to take up the Colombian treaty at once or let it go over until the special session of congress. Following receipt Wednesday of a message from President Harding urging ratification the senate adjourned without acting. Senator Lodge gave notice he would move Thursday to proceed with immediate consideration of the treaty.

It was announced that the text of the message would not be made public unless the senate decided to consider it in open instead of executive session.

Harding's message was short, and senators said, did not specifically urge ratification at this session of the senate.

The message, senators said, merely expressed the hope that prompt ratification would be possible in the interest of harmony and good feeling.

Senators Borah, Kellogg and others, opponents of the treaty, raised the question of consideration in open session. They reminded senators that the senate last session made an order for public consideration of the treaty. Senator Lodge contended for secret sessions.

WOMEN MIX GOOD TIME WITH WORK AT MARCH MEET

Program and Dance Follows Announcement of Candidates for Office.

About 150 women attended the first March meeting of the Appleton Women's Club which was held Tuesday evening in the Elk club. Mrs. T. E. Orsborn, chairman of the nominating committee, reported the following committee of officers for next year: Mrs. H. G. Kinsman, president; Miss Carrie Morgan, first vice president; Mrs. K. C. Rosebush, second vice president; Mrs. A. H. Meyer, recording secretary; Miss Inez Gurnee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. H. Wickesberg, treasurer; Mrs. E. C. Hilbert, assistant treasurer; Mrs. J. S. Reeve, Mrs. Gustave Keller, Miss Helen Schmidt, Mrs. Frank Wright and Mrs. L. E. Sugerman, directors at large.

This list of nominees will be posted in the club rooms. At any time within one week any ten members of the club may file in writing with the recording secretary a nomination for any office to be filled at the annual election which takes place March 22.

The present officers will continue in office until the second meeting in May when they will turn over the business to their successors. The new officers and directors will then have two months after their election to formulate plans for the coming year.

Announcement was made of the invitation received from the chamber of commerce to attend their annual election and banquet. The Q. R. S. division has undertaken to get up the banquet as its financial statement.

Interesting Program

The business session was followed by an interesting program. Mrs. P. P. Dohearty sang "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," accompanied by Mrs. John Farwell of Kaukauna. She responded to the enthusiastic applause with "Last Night a Nightingale Woke Me."

Miss Dorothy Adsett and Miss May-Lie Zealley, in dainty colonial costumes, danced the Beethoven Minuet in G, accompanied by Miss Henrietta Ralph. This was followed by the appearance of the Alden family consisting of Mrs. Emil Voeks, Mrs. R. W. Gutschow, Mrs. E. E. Dunn and Miss Eleanor Voeks. Mrs. Voeks wore a colonial costume and flowered muslin as did Miss Eleanor Voeks while Mrs. Gutschow wore a poke bonnet and a paisley shawl and Mrs. Dunn a tall silk hat and a business suit. Mrs. Voeks played selections from the "Bohemian Girl" and Mrs. Dunn as Mr. Alden gave clever renditions of the "Cuckoo Cuck" and "If Priscilla Hadn't Popped." Little Miss Eleanor Voeks then played a violin selection.

Miss Eva Hall read a cutting from the "Cincinnati" a Lincoln story. A novel musical number was given by Mrs. John Farwell of Kaukauna who played an artistic piano accompaniment for several victrola numbers.

All About the Accident

The last number of the program was the presentation of a gift of a cut glass service by a prominent citizen. Mrs. Joseph Koffend Jr. made a clever little presentation speech while Miss Carrie Morgan, first vice president, advanced to receive it for the club. A page brought in the glittering service and as Mrs. Koffend advanced to present it to Miss Morgan, she had the embarrassing misfortune to stumble and the heavy plates all went down in a ringing, splintering crash. Women gasped and screamed and started to the assistance of Mrs. Koffend when a newsboy rushed in shouting his "Extra, extra, all about the great accident." It was then the ladies discovered that the whole thing was a gentle hoax and the committee had "put over a good one."

Old fashioned games and dances were led by a committee. The members danced around in costumes of every description, bonnets from woe straw to large silk pokes, shawls of old lace and paleys.

Many a curl or two was released from the bondage of pins and nets and allowed to drop coquettishly behind the ears for an hour's freedom.

Refreshments of delicious lemonade and ginger cookie rabbits were served. The "piece de resistance" was a Jack Horner pie made of a French hat box. The ladies "put in their thumbs and pulled out plums" in the shape of old fashioned candies.

GIVE OATH TO SCOUTS OF FIFTH WARD TROOP

Boy scout troop No. 10, which was organized last week, held its second meeting in the Fifth ward school Tuesday evening. E. R. Henderson, scout executive, took charge in the absence of W. R. Bruce, scoutmaster. The oath was given several scouts who are to take up training for the rank of tenderfoot. Three new members were added, giving the troop an enrollment of 31. Only two more are required to form a complete troop.

HORTONVILLE BANKERS ARE IN CANNERY CASE

Officers of the Farmers and Merchants State bank, Hortonville, were called in at the hearing of the Hortonville Canning company receivership case Monday at the court house to show cause why they should not be made parties to the action. It is said that the bank holds certain securities for the company and made certain conveyances that it is believed will make the bank party in the matter.

The hearing was put over until next Monday, when the company is to produce minute and stock books for examination to substantiate this claim. The company was declared insolvent several months ago and was placed under the administration of Attorney J. J. Price of Hortonville.

Gorgeous Spring Creations Cost Less Than A Year Ago

Modish Skirts Will Be Even Shorter Than Those Worn Now, Merchants Say.

Cheer up all ye husbands who have been dreading to receive your annual invitation from friend wife to go on a spring shopping tour. You will undoubtedly come out of the ordeal 25 or 33 1/3 per cent richer than you did a year ago. The coat that you bought last year for $100 is on the market now for $75 and in some instances $69.50.

Taffeta in navy blue, black and brown is the queen among materials for early spring dresses. Henna is used extensively in trimmings. The ready made models come trimmed with accordion pleating, yarn embroidery, applique and bead embroidery.

Following taffeta closely are the canton crepes and crepe de chine. One of the latest touches is a bright crepe sash on a crepe dress of contrasting color.

Skirts are somewhat shorter than last season and sleeves are three-quarter length.

Suits have been modeled this season to suit every style of beauty. There is the box coat for the small miss, the ruffled affect for the more mature figure and the tailored suit for the matronly woman. Some models come with bloused black effects. Hand embroidery is the chief trimming in the more fancy suits while buttons are used quite profusely on the plainer models. Navy blue is the predominating color. Some of the new suits come with a fetching little girle which ties, giving a draped effect in front.

Materials in suits are popert twill and tricotine. Some of the most expensive models are trimmed with bead embroidery. Coats come with low cut necks and front lapels or tuxedo effects.

The predominant feature in the separate coat is the wrap cut. Embroidery forms the principal trimming. Fancy linings are used. The favorite materials are suede velvet, English polo, homespun, chambray, ramona, navy tricotine and jersey. Coats come in three-quarter length. Sport coats are chic little velvet and velvet affairs trimmed with velvet and gold cloth collars and cuffs in contrasting colors. Sport skirts come in striped silk knit, baronets, plaid silk weaves and pleated crepes in colors and white.

Separate skirts come in striped box pleats, plaid box pleats and small checked materials.

Waists and blouses are shown in georgette crepe, canton crepe and crepe de chine in all colors. Gray is one of the new colors to be worn. Embroidery and lace trimmings predominate.

Harding blue is the color for hats. It is similar to an alicia blue with perhaps just a suggestion of pale green added to it. Gray, henna and navy are very good. Black will be used more extensively after Easter. Novel braids and flower trimmings form the basis of many of the most charming creations made to adorn milady's "crowning glory."

Gray suede is to be one of the leaders for the fancy dress pump. Brown and black suede will be close seconds with hand turned soles and baby French Louis heels. Strap effects will be very good for afternoon and evening while military and Cuban heels will predominate on the street oxford which will come in dark brown and black.

REPARATIONS ARE "CRAZY," BRITISH ECONOMIST SAYS

Normal Angell Advises Allied Powers to Get Down to Earth.

By Milton Brunner
Special to Post-Crescent
London—Crazy statecraft! That is how Norman Angell, English economist and author of "The Economic Chaos and the Peace Treaty" and other works, characterizes the $55,000,000,000 German reparations agreement reached by the allies and to be presented to Germany at the London conference this month.

"Theoretically," he says, "Germany can pay the sums fixed by the allies. All she needs is to expand her export trade sufficiently over her import trade and she can pay any sum the allies ask."

"But, in so doing, she would have to swamp the allied and neutral countries with German manufactured goods."

Effect on Allies
"That would injure the allies' home trade, close their factories, paralyze their capital and aggravate unemployment."

"The allies couldn't afford that. In their reparations agreement they took positive steps to prevent it by stipulating a 12 per cent levy on German exports."

"So, in one breath, by demanding crazy indemnities, the allies bid Germany break all world records in foreign trade; and in the next breath, by this export levy, they erect a wall preventing German trade expansion."

"It is only by making exports exceed imports that Germany can pay anything. In the last analysis she must pay in goods."

Seizure of Rails
Angell was asked whether the allies couldn't get something tangible by seizing German railways, river steamers and canal boats.

"The allies could do that," he replied, "but it would get them nowhere. You can't export the German railways and sell them outside, as Lloyd George recently pointed out, thereby practically paralyzing passages in my book, 'The Great Illusion,' which ten years ago were ridiculed by some of our economists."

"So the allies would have to put the railways to work in Germany. It would be the Germans who would ship goods on them, and they would pay in paper marks."

"The profits of these railroads would be in paper marks. To realize anything from them the allies would have to spend them in Germany for goods."

"When Germany pays in goods and labor she competes with other countries."

"Allied politicians must stop making foolish promises and get down to earth. The sooner they face the facts the sooner the world will be able to work out its salvation from the war's wreckage."

HERE IS A JOB MOST OF US WILL ACCEPT

South Dakota Solons Consider Museum of Thirst Slack-ing Beverages.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Pierre, S. D.—Booze-hounds are barking a bill introduced in the South Dakota Legislature by Senator Knight.

The bill calls for the creation of a Commission on Liquid Reminiscence to collect samples of whisky, wine, brandy, beer, gin, ale and other liquors so that future generations may gaze upon the stuff that used to be—but isn't.

And furthermore, the bill explains, Will go on exhibition in a case to be erected. You must not touch, the rule will be. Just look, but do not sample. Protection, by machine guns, so the bill says, will be ample.

Transparent bottles, holding at least a pint, and measuring at least six inches from "stem to stern," shall be provided to contain the liquids. The bottles shall be placed in a steel case in a prominent place in the South Dakota State Historical Society Museum.

The commission is authorized to appoint judges to test liquid. Said judges must pay $25 a day for permission to serve, and in return are allowed to write opinions of the samples.

There is no clause within the bill that says a thing about the man who samples home brew and then shortly passes out.

You take your own sweet chances and you pay well for the same. But the senator feels confident that many will be game.

The bill asks an appropriation of $40,000 which would provide the salary of secretary at $100 a month; $600 for stationary and office supplies; $7,000 for a steel cabinet; $10,000 for salary and equipment of a squad of machine gunners to guard the liquids, and $20,000 for the purchase of samples.

FORD HAVING TROUBLE TO FINANCE BUSINESS

New York—The Dow Jones financial news service carried the following Wednesday:

"Detroit—It is reported Ford Motor company officials are conferring on what steps shall be taken toward financing and whether the plant shall be closed pending completion of these arrangements. The transaction is said to involve approximately $4,000,000 and with the sale go the rights to do business in all British possessions except in England, Scotland and Wales."

The formation of a new motor company is announced by Frank E. Kingensmith, former vice president and general manager of the Ford Motor company, who will be president. The company is to be known as the Gray Motors corporation. It expects to get into production this summer or early fall."

Latest Fashions Will Be Shown In First Style Show

Local Merchants Plan Splendid Exhibition of Latest in Wearing Apparel.

Are you curious to see what the new spring styles are like? Wouldn't you like an opportunity to go from store to store to select them without any obligation to buy?

That opportunity is to be given the public by members of the retail merchants' division of the chamber of commerce Monday evening. It will be the opening of spring style show week, taking in the days from March 14 to 21, inclusive. All the latest in ladies' and men's suits and coats, hats, shoes and other apparel will be on display.

Stores participating in the event are to be open from 7:30 to 9:30 Monday evening. The public is expected to visit each store to inspect the new showings, but nobody will be permitted to buy that evening. Attractive window displays also are to be a feature of the event.

Husbands and wives are expected to go together, because there will be no waiting around for fitting measurements, or for milady to dote on the choice of garments. The gentlemen are to go to the stores showing women's apparel, and the wives are expected to visit the men's clothing stores.

Will Provide Music

It is possible that a band will play during at least part of the evening on College-ave. Some of the stores intend to provide their own orchestras for entertainment of visitors, and others expect to offer attractions of other kinds. Other demonstrations are planned for the evening to remind people that style week has begun.

This is the second of a series of co-operative merchandising events planned here. Merchants united in a bargain week event which drew hundreds of shoppers here from the locality near Appleton. Style show week is expected to be a much bigger event, and probably will mean crowded stores all through the week. Newspaper advertising will be used to announce the showings of the various stores.

Moving pictures of the New York style show, displaying both men's and women's spring creations, are to be shown all week in Appleton theatre.

H. L. Dawson, of Burton-Dawson company, is chairman of the committee of merchants in charge of the event. He expects to announce the entertainment features in a day or two.

DENTISTS URGED TO PREACH GOSPEL OF CLEAN TEETH

Fox River Dental Society Will Hold Annual Meeting Here in May.

Members of Fox River Valley Dental society, which includes practically all dentists of northeastern Wisconsin between Marinette and Fond du Lac, changed their annual meeting from the second Tuesday in March to the second Tuesday in May by a unanimous vote at a meeting in the Venetian room of the Sherman house Tuesday night.

The reason for making the change was that the early part of March has always been an inconvenient time for members to get together and by advancing the date to May they will be able to use their automobiles and make the trip more an outing.

In order to carry out this plan it was necessary to amend the constitution and bylaws. Ballots at two successive meetings were required to do this. The resolution first came up at the meeting a year ago. The meeting Tuesday night which was preceded by a banquet attended by 75 members, was called for the purpose of voting on the resolution and making it possible to hold the annual meeting this year in May.

Preparing Program

The first meeting under the new plan will be held in Appleton on May 10. The program committee, which consists of Drs. W. J. Foote, H. K. Pratt and I. J. Herrick, are planning one of the most elaborate programs in the history of the association which will include a clinic by Dr. F. B. Harrel or some, other dentist of national reputation as well as several others by men of great prominence.

Dr. Harry Norton of Milwaukee, principal speaker of the evening, said the national convention of dentists will be held in Milwaukee in August and that very extensive arrangements are being made for the $3,000 or more dentists who will attend. He advised members of the Fox River Valley Dental society to lose no time in making hotel reservations.

Dr. Morton's address was one of the most instructive and entertaining ever delivered before the Fox River Valley Dental society and it was so much appreciated that he was given a note of thanks at its conclusion. He is authority on practically everything in dentistry and is an enthusiastic worker and inspires enthusiasm in others.

Likes His Work

"I am proud of being a dentist," he said, "and would not change jobs with the biggest man in the city. The functions of a dentist are so big we have to have big men to perform them. No science today covers so much as the science of dentistry. But remember there is no such thing as an expert. He must be a generalist. He must know what the mouth requires."

Dr. Morton said that preventive dentistry is the foundation upon which dentistry is to be based for the rest of the world's history and his talk was along that line. Dentists of the future will not only preserve the teeth of their patrons but they will instruct them how to care for them, how to care for the gums and mouth and what to do in the event of disease. It is a matter of education not alone for the dentist but for his patient.

"Further, we have this to think of," said Dr. Morton. "It does not make a particle of difference how varied preventive measures are if the patient is not taught how to keep his or her mouth clean the work that has been done is absolutely of no consequence whatever. I don't care how perfect the inlay is made or gold filling if the patient is not taught how to live it is absolutely lost."

Must Know Foods

Dr. Morton said that many mouths suffer from an unbalanced diet and that it is up to dentists to know more about food as it enters into dentistry today.

A series of stereopticon views were thrown on a canvas showing diseased teeth and gums and the effects of pyorrhea. The views also showed the proper method of cleaning the teeth on which a great deal of stress was laid by the speaker. Dr. Morton called attention to a bill before the legislature which if it becomes a law will insure sound teeth for school children who will no longer be neglected in this respect.

The Pennsylvania Legislature is considering a bill to tax resident fishermen $1 a year.

WISCONSIN WOMAN GAINS 30 POUNDS

Was Unable To Walk For Rheumatism Before She Began Taking Tanlac

"I have gotten complete relief from my rheumatism and have gained thirty pounds in weight besides and all this on just four bottles of Tanlac," said Mrs. William F. Dobbett, Box 356, R. F. D. No. 2, Wauwatosa, Wis. "I was so badly crippled up with rheumatism that I simply could not walk and I had given up my house work altogether. The pains in my joints were so bad and the muscles were sore and stiff. My feet would swell up so bad I could not get my shoes on."

"My nerves were worn to a frazzle and just any kind of noise would upset me and I would shake like a leaf. I felt off a great deal in weight and felt as weak as a rag and had no energy at all."

"It just looked as if my case was hopeless, but when someone suggested Tanlac I decided to try it and I noticed an improvement right away. The swelling and soreness began to disappear and in a few days I was able to walk around. I continued to improve and it wasn't long until the rheumatic pains were all gone and I felt better than I had in many years."

"My nerves quieted down and as I began to sleep better and eat better my lost weight and strength returned. This was all a year ago last April, and from then until now I have been feeling and enjoying just splendid health. I do my housework all by myself now and simply could not ask to feel any better."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt; F. O. Brown, Shooeton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. E. Abend, Dale; R. E. Lowell, Little Chute.

FORESTERS PLAN MORE ACTIVITIES

Interesting Irish Program Is Presented at Tuesday Night Meeting.

One of the most active fraternal buildings in the city will be the Forester home following plans adopted at the bi-weekly meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters Tuesday evening. It was a St. Patrick event, with an attractive Irish program.

Meetings of the court are to be held weekly instead of only on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month. The latter days will continue to be business sessions, but the gatherings on the first and third Tuesdays will be largely social, transacting only the most necessary business. Walter J. Slipp, speaker, will be in charge of the committee arranging programs.

Each Wednesday afternoon and evening is to be set aside for use of the clubhouse by the women. The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will meet each second and fourth Wednesday, and Ladies auxiliary of the court on the first and third Wednesdays, and on the odd Wednesday of any month.

Weekly card parties on Monday evenings are to be resumed after Easter. This new program gives the court three days of each week with definite activities.

New Members

Nine new members have been gained toward the number required to again make Appleton court No. 132 the largest in the United States. The spring membership campaign is on in full swing with teams making a thorough solicitation. An initiation is to be held after Easter.

A highly interesting address on "Ireland's Loyalty to the Faith" was given by the Rev. Adam Grill as the principal feature of the St. Patrick program. He referred to the time when Ireland became christian under the leadership of St. Patrick, and how the nation had remained true to this new faith ever since. His sketch of St. Patrick's life was especially interesting. The meeting was interspersed with Irish songs, and several members told Irish stories. An informal smoker followed, using "Irish meerschaums," small clay pipes tied with green ribbons.

The board of directors of the court is to hold a lunch and business meeting at 6:15 Thursday evening. Several business matters are to be presented.

STAR BASKETBALL PLAYER ARRESTED IN MILWAUKEE

Edward Karst, star player on the Marquette university football team, was arrested in Milwaukee Tuesday on a statutory charge in a raid on a Milwaukee saloon. He is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. It was said stories told by two girls resulted in the charges against Karst and seven other young men.

Karst was formerly a student in the Fond du Lac high school and played in several basketball tournaments here. He is known to nearly every basketball fan in the Fox river valley and is considered one of the best players in the state. He was arrested immediately after Marquette defeated Northwestern university Monday night.

THE OCCUPATION OF GERMANY
Occupation of Germany by the allies to enforce reparations demands appears to be justified by the circumstances as a logical and necessary course. The differences between the Germans and the allies are vital. They are so far apart in what the latter have set as an indemnity and what the former propose to pay that a breach was inevitable. The sum fixed by the allies at the session of the supreme council early in the year was $56,000,000,000. Dr. Simons in presenting Germany's reply last week proposed to pay a sum equivalent to $7,500,000,000. This amount Dr. Simons has offered to increase, but not sufficiently to satisfy Lloyd George or his associates that it is adequate or that it represents the maximum capacity of Germany's economic organization.

The speech delivered by Lloyd George at the close of the week when the final ultimatum was presented to the Germans makes out a strong case for the allies. In that speech he asserted that Germany does not realize the true character of the demands made upon her. "The German people are under the impression," he said, "that the demands of the allies are designed to destroy their great people. Let me say at once that we regard a free, contented and prosperous Germany as essential to civilization and that we regard a discontented and enslaved Germany as a menace and a burden to European civilization. We have no desire to oppress Germany. We simply ask that she should discharge obligations she has entered into and repair injuries inflicted by the war which her imperial government was responsible for provoking."

Lloyd George brought out the fact that while under the treaty of Frankfurt Germany had laid down the principle and acted upon it that the nation responsible for provoking war ought to pay the costs of the war, the allies were not asking a penny of war costs. Conceding that the war charges of the allies in the aggregate were so enormous that no single nation could bear them, he stated the principle of the reparations demand in these words: "We have simply insisted that Germany shall pay reparation in respect of the charges cast upon our respective countries by material damages to property and by injuries inflicted upon the lives and limbs of inhabitants. We have asked for no more and we can take no less."

The prime minister's catalogue of damage done in northern France alone showed that 319,269 homes had been entirely destroyed, 213,675 partly destroyed; 29,000 factories destroyed; 8,000 kilometres of railroad, 5,000 bridges and 52,000 kilometres of highways destroyed; 9,386,000 acres of land devastated; northern coal mines ruined and production reduced from 42,000,000 to 21,000,000 tons, will require many years to repair. The French budget this year carries 12,000,000,000 francs as the beginning of her long work of restoration. "I have passed through this devastated area pretty well from one end to the other," said Lloyd George, "and it is perfectly appalling. The very soil is churned up and destroyed. A good deal of this devastation was wrought through bombardments and movements of war, but an incredible amount of damage was done deliberately with a view to destroy essential means of production." This portrayal of injuries applies to Belgium as well as to France.

Germany has undergone practically none of this damage to homes, factories or soil. Her physical possessions are almost intact. The German offer does not represent, according to the allies, one-fourth of the sum required to repair physical damage, to say nothing of life and other destruction. "I cannot understand a psychology," declared Lloyd George in a bitter indictment of the German attitude, "which permits the representatives of a country whose government was responsible for the most devastating war the world has ever seen to come solemnly with such terms to a conference with representatives of the countries that have been the victim of that devastation."

It is a strong case, to say the least. Lloyd George has always taken a conservative stand in his views on the penalties to be assessed. His moderation has at times exasperated the French, but he has held to reason and practical methods. He probably has placed as accurate and fair an estimate upon Germany's ability to pay as it is possible to arrive at. Even his patience has been exhausted and now that force is to be applied the opinion of the world will be that his position is reasonable and the military measures taken justified. So far as psychology is concerned, the lack of understanding lies with Germany. Most of her mistakes and fatal decisions of the war were the result of inability to grasp the psychology of peoples other than her own. That seems to be her error in the present situation. She cannot see the right or determination of the allies to exact reparations reasonably commensurate with the victory they won, the colossal sacrifices they made and her own responsibilities.

TARIFF REVISION SHOULD GIVE WAY
The emergency tariff bill passed by the late congress was vetoed by the president just before the inauguration. The house of representatives sustained the veto, so that the question of tariff revision goes over to the new congress, which will assemble shortly. The emergency tariff bill was enacted to be vetoed. There was never any serious belief or intention on the part of congress that it should become a law. It was a measure designed to make the farmer think that the politicians took a special interest in his welfare and held a special sympathy for the heavy losses he has taken in readjustment.

We should now have a breathing spell on tariff legislation. While it is important in some of its aspects it is the least important of the three great problems which press for governmental attention. We should have no hasty tariff legislation, for that would inevitably favor special seeking interests. On the other hand a protracted consideration of the subject would hold up other legislation unduly.

We believe the country first desires in the treatment of domestic problems a revision of the tax laws. Business and industry ought to be promptly relieved of the burden of the excess profits tax. Reduced taxation is one of the elemental factors in restoring sound prosperity of the country and in permanently protecting the people against excessive cost of living. It will also help to stabilize wages at a reasonably high level.

Foreign relations also demand immediate attention, as our policies in this respect will have a direct relationship to a restoration of healthy economic conditions. These problems involve the reestablishment of peace, our attitude toward the allied nations with whom we fought in the war, the re-financing of Europe and disposition of the League of Nations question. In the face of matters of great concern both at home and abroad tariff revision can afford to wait and should give way for the immediate present.

PHILADELPHIA—Dr. Yaja Donato, surgeon on the liner Ferdinand Palasciano, which arrived here recently with 1533 immigrants, disinfected the passengers en route. When the ship encountered a heavy coating of oil on the water the doctor had hundreds of buckets of it scooped up and make the passengers bathe in it.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

A PROPHYLACTIC MEASURE
Now comes the merry month of wheezes, chills, snuffles, colds, coughs, hawks, and sneezes; when Doctor Bunk and Dr. Bump bid you beware of draught and damp, enshew night air and morning dew, and wear a charm against the flu. But, listen, friends, and your ear. I tell you there is naught to fear, its only camouflage. If you would keep your health intact, a germless respiratory tract, don't enter the barrage. From mouth and nose and eke the eyes a dub developing coryza gives off germs galore, which sail in droplets of saliva—moisture keeps the germs alive a minute, seldom more. This germ spray carries some five feet. When such a pest you chance to meet, on business bent or pleasure, maneuver thus to take your seat: From nose to nose at least five feet—a prophylactic measure! So much for etiology, the vital thing, I'm sure. But folks prefer pathology. "The cause?" Bah! What's the cure? If a person is showed with invisible spray and fluids he has caught a bad what did you say? Then what should he do? Well, I'll tell you a few of the things tried and true for the flugripocoryza (The name is quite new.) Through its alkaline, soothing, expectorant action this recipe serves with profound satisfaction: Of the citrate of soda, one ounce, with the juice of a lemon for flavor and to make the cough loose. To sweeten add glycerin—an ounce is enough. Then four drops of peppermint gives zest to the stuff. Set this apart aside. Now steep, as for tea, a spoonful of flaxseeds, and be careful to see that water sufficient to make a half a quart is used. Strain and add to the previous part. Adults take a tablespoonful of this brew, whereas for a child a teaspoonful will do, every two hours for two or three days from the very first sign of the warning heralds.

No quinine. No whisky. No "cold cures"—too risky. Rely on home treatment and don't be so triaky. Take a bottle of magnesium citrate, fresh-made, and by all means drink freely of hot lemonade.

And rest is best. A day in bed is always wiser than keeping up with the coryza. No one who knows is heard contending that mild onset precludes and ending. So hop to bed and call your friends, the neighbors, and a nurse—the latter comes in handy when the former makes you worse. The greatest remedy we've got for—don't call it that—in the head is easily a piping hot mustard foot bath in bed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Coffee and Cocoa
Is coffee a harmful beverage? If properly made does it have a bad effect on the liver? On the nerves? Is cocoa a good substitute or does it have the same effect? (Mrs. S. G. F.)
ANSWER—For adults, with very few exceptions, properly made coffee (by infusion or percolation, never boiling) is wholesome and rather beneficial, provided it is taken in moderate quantity (one or two cups daily) and as a beverage, not to wash down morsels of food, and not taken excessively hot. Children under sixteen should never take coffee, because it is too stimulating to the brain, heart, and kidneys. Cocoa is more nutritious and less stimulating than coffee; its stimulation is more pronounced upon the kidneys than on the heart or brain; coffee stimulates the brain and heart more than the kidneys. Cocoa is therefore not advisable for children. It is all right for persons over sixteen years of age, as a rule. A few individuals with certain ailments may be better without coffee, but that is for the physician to advise in any case.

Snicker-Snack Went the Jobberwork
I have just recovered from snailpox and have been released from a three weeks' siege. I now hear that, regardless of one's prior physical condition, the snailpox purifies the blood, etc., and therefore one is in much better physical condition after having it. However, this sounds fishy to me. Is there anything in the saying? (G. H. L.)
ANSWER—It is an ancient superstition and it contributed little toward the crime of some old-time parents who deliberately exposed their children to various contagious diseases. No disease ever adds anything to the victim's health or future well being. Consider yourself fortunate if you escaped with no serious sequel.

Miss Rose Appleton, who had been attending the Stevens Point normal school during the winter, returned home.

UNITED STATES AMERICA
"U. S. A." inscribed on an article purchased by a citizen of America, sojourning temporarily in London, means a great deal to said American, but it doesn't mean anything to an Englishman.
In fact, "U. S. A." doesn't mean anything to the eyes of those the American manufacturer would like to impress.
Ansel R. Clark of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, in Mobile discussing "How manufacturers can engage in foreign trade," said that "U. S. A." might mean "Union of South Africa," or anything else.
He cautioned exporters to place "United States America" on the manufactured articles sent from the country to foreign lands.

The Dangerous Dames
By Frederic J. Haskin
New York City—Are women a political menace? This is the latest grave and important question to be thrust upon the unsuspecting nation by the governor of New York. Governor Miller not only thinks they are; he has had the courage to tell them so. His recent charge to that effect was leveled specifically at the New York State League of Women Voters, but, inasmuch as there is a similar feminine organization in every state, he has succeeded in placing about two million women voters on the defensive.

The menacing thing about the women, in the opinion of the Governor and other male political leaders, is that they insist upon maintaining these independent, non-partisan, feminine leagues as political instruments, instead of casting their individual lots with the two great American political parties. In other words, they are working for the things they want as a sex rather than as individuals.

The league of women voters replies to this that it is the only way they can make their votes count. So far the ballot has availed the women nothing. Woman suffrage today is, as Mr. Gilbert Keith Chesterton quaintly puts it, "a legal fiction." Women are affiliated in fairly large numbers with both the Democratic and Republican parties, but they have, as yet, absolutely no party power. That may be developed in time, but meanwhile they think some other means must be used to achieve women's rights.

The long fight for suffrage taught the women the value of a non-partisan organization. For years individual women worked for suffrage through the two political parties without making the slightest impression. They might have been so working yet had the prohibitionists come along and shown them a better road. The prohibitionists thrust the 18th amendment through Congress by organizing large and powerful non-partisan political forces in every state. When a political candidate announced himself in favor of prohibition, they helped to elect him, and when he declared himself against it, they helped to defeat him. The man's party did not count; he alone was held responsible.

After watching the efficiency of this method for a short time, the women decided to imitate it. They, too, built up powerful organizations in each state, and thus suffrage was forced into the Constitution only a trifle behind prohibition.

The Trouble Has Just Begun
But having gained the ballot, the women realized that their fight for women's rights was still in its infancy, and they were unwilling to demobilize an organization which had proved so valuable an aid to victory. In every state, therefore, the women's suffrage association was merely changed into the state league of women voters, and the national association became the National League of Women Voters, retaining a headquarters in Washington.

The league represents the conservative wing of woman suffrage. It has no connection with the National Woman's Party, containing the more radical feminists, which recently held its convention in Washington. But both organizations are working for the same things.

What are these things—these so-called women's rights—which as yet have not been taken up by the Republican and Democratic parties? Equal opportunity with men, the protection of children, and the promotion of education are the principal ones. The women are solidly behind such legislation as the Sheppard-Towner (maternity and infancy) bill, now before the United States Congress, for example, and likewise the Kenyon-Pace bill containing a large appropriation for the teaching of home economics. They want better salaries paid to school teachers; medical examinations for all school children, and the provision of hot lunches in every public school. The League of Women Voters is in favor of laws protecting women and children in industry. It is constantly working for a better and cheaper food supply. It has started a widespread campaign for the unification of laws in all states, especially laws relating to marriage and divorce.

The chief function of the league is the promotion of political education. It conducts classes in American citizenship, in election laws and methods, and in special laws concerning women. Mass meetings are constantly held under its auspices for the non-partisan discussion of proposed legislation and other matters of public interest.

Are these activities a menace? In answer to the Governor's charge, the New York League of Women Voters submitted the following embarrassing questions:

Hedding the Governor
"The chief work of the League of Women Voters is educating voters, especially women. Does not the Republican party want an intelligent electorate?"

"We believe that voters should study the public questions in an unprejudiced way. Therefore we offer a non-partisan platform for their discussion, in which we welcome both Republican and Democratic speakers. Does the Republican party prefer that the voters should accept a partisan view without knowing anything about the subject?"

"We insist that public office should be given to the man who will best serve the public, and not in payment for party service. We believe that true economy will result when public office is regarded not as party spoils, but as public trust. Does the Republican party disagree with this?"

"We believe that uniting the small groups which habitually control our dominant parties would be a menace to our country's future. Does this belief preclude our working with the Republican party?"

"You deny our right to work as a group outside of the political party for political measures, and you say that all non-partisan groups which seek to affect legislation and the choice of candidates are a menace to the welfare of the country. Do you include in this such groups as the State Charities Aid, and Dairymen's leagues, the Grange, the Citizens' union, the bar association, the American legion and the manufacturers' association? Or are we a menace only because we are women?"

So far, the governor has made no reply to these interrogations. But the machinery of the Republican party has been set in motion against the league in all parts of the state. Party office is being denied to women who are members of the League, while Republican officials are seizing every opportunity to prevent women from joining the organization.

Far from being discouraging, however, this campaign is proving highly beneficial to the League. It has simply served to change the luke-warm and half-hearted among its own ranks into ardent defenders, and to attract thousands of new members to its banner.

"After all a governor makes an excellent press agent," mused a New York Woman Voter, the other morning, as she checked a long list of new subscriptions. "If this rush of new members keeps up, the next thing you know we will be presenting him with a loving cup."

Q. Where is the coldest place of which the temperature has been recorded? A. H. T.
A. The weather bureau says that the Antarctic temperatures are very low; but the place of the lowest observed temperature is in northeastern Siberia, with a record of 90 degrees below zero, and an average temperature for January of 60 degrees below.

Q. When was a civil service commission first appointed, and how long did it last? F. J. L.
A. In 1871 Congress included a clause in the general appropriation bill authorizing the president to prescribe rules for admission to civil service and to appoint a commission for that purpose. President Grant appointed the first civil service commission with George William Curtis as chairman. This operated until the winter of 1875, when congress omitted the annual appropriation for the working of the system, and the president suspended the operation of the service rules.

Q. In ancient times, what was the orchestra in a theater? D. M.
A. In the Greek theaters, the orchestra was the place allotted to the chorus of dancers.

Q. What is the origin or meaning of the expression "bedlam let loose"? W. V. R.
A. "Bedlam" is the popular name for the Hospital of St. Mary of Bethlehem, a London insane asylum. This is now a well equipped, well conducted hospital, but in former times, the inmates were exhibited to the public, and the convalescent patients were sent out on the streets to beg, in order to provide funds sufficient for the needs of the institution. This surely must have been "bedlam let loose."

Q. What city in the United States is known as the "Electric City"? I. M. C.
A. This name has been applied to Schenectady, New York. Thousands of people are here employed in the manufacture of electrical apparatus.

Q. Please publish an answer to the question "Where did the Indians come from?" E. N. L.
A. The Office of Indian Affairs states that no one knows exactly where Indians originated and how they got to America. Some say they originated in China; some say Egypt; and some say India. They are supposed to have come from there west by Behring strait, or via Atlantic, the last continent.

Q. Please give me the date of the construction of an old toll road from Philadelphia to Harrisburg and on West? J. C. B.
A. The road you have in mind was called the old Lancaster Turnpike; it was started in 1752 by the Lancaster Turnpike company; was completed in 1794, i. e., completed as far as Harrisburg or thereabout. This work covered 62 miles. The road was continued from there west to Pittsburgh. The final date of completion is unknown. This Lancaster turnpike is the oldest toll road in the United States.

Nor does a big cut in clothing mean more—until the quality is bared for examination.

UNCLE SAM GOING IN MEAT BUSINESS
United States Caters to Trade of Ships Using the Panama Canal.
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington.—An ad from an English newspaper, showing how cheaply Uncle Sam is selling beef to ships going through the canal, has brought forth the query—
"If the United States can sell meat cheap to vessels, why not to the American public?"
Here is how the ad reads:
"To insure a constant supply of fresh beef of good quality for the ships coming to the canal the Panama Canal operates a 2800-ton steamer, bringing 20,000 cattle and 6000 hogs per year from the relatively cheap markets of the nearby republic of Colombia.
"The cattle are in condition for slaughtering on the 46,852 acres of pasture land which have been cleared for them in the Canal Zone. The reserve stock on pasture now is 16,000 head.
"They are slaughtered in a modern abattoir which handles the killing and dressing of as many as 2000 beefs and 200 hogs per day. They are chilled and stored in an adjacent cold storage plant which has space for 4818 beef carcasses, other meats in proportion.
"Every step is under strict veterinary inspection.
"A cheap market, large-scale operations, and utilization of all by-products under modern methods make it possible to sell good beef cheaply. Prices, Nov. 20, 1920: Forequarters, 16 cents; hindquarters, 21 cents.
"For further information address the nearest American consul, or the Panama Canal, Balboa Heights, Canal Zone, Panama; or the Panama Canal, Washington, D. C., U. S. A."

Health the Keynote to Beauty

Beauty means so much to women—power, social triumph, admiration and love. Beauty implies good health. Who ever saw a woman racked with pain, struggling with weakness or disease, who could be called beautiful? The woman of today in this high-strung, nervous age is continually overdoing, with the result that it is peculiar to her sex develop which, unchecked, will ruin all chances for her happiness. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been recognized as a standard remedy for women's ills, and has done much to relieve pain and restore good health to women. adv.

GIRLS CAGE TEAM WILL PLAY BAY SQUAD HERE

The Appleton Womens club basketball team will meet the girls team of East Green Bay in the high school gymnasium Friday night. This is the second outside game which any of the club teams will play. It will be followed by a return game at Green Bay Tuesday with the Y. W. C. A. team which was defeated here last Friday night. Proceeds of the Friday game will go toward deferring the expenses of the team to Green Bay.

Members of the club and people in town are evidencing a keen interest in the teams of the Womens club because of their strict adherence to girls rules in playing. There has long been a controversy over basketball as a suitable sport for girls because the game as now played it is too strenuous. Girls have been made to suit the strength of girls. They play in quarters with two minute rests after the first and third with ten minutes between halves.

The girls on the teams have been doing splendid work and are most enthusiastic. Amateur composers have already furnished songs and yells which add to the pep of every game. The ambition of the teams is to fill the high school gym for each game.

A legal notice in the Post-Crescent advertising the foreclosure and sale of certain property in the town of Freedom in the case of Mary Heckel, plaintiff, against James Hooyman, Rose Hooyman, his wife, Albert H. Krugmeier and Henry Gemen, was in error in that the name of one of the defendants in the action was printed as John Hooyman. John Hooyman, also a resident of Freedom, has no connection whatever with this action and publication of his name as a defendant in this suit was an injustice.

PRISON SENTENCE
BLASTS ROMANCE

Companion Is Arrested at Manitowoc and Sent to Prison for Three Years.

Manitowoc—A romance which had its inception in Milwaukee several weeks ago came to a sudden ending for pretty Agnes Spencer of Kenosha, when Vernon Teal, with whom she eloped to Manitowoc, was sentenced to three years in Waupun for forgery. Under the name of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hagen, the two had been living together as man and wife, but had never taken the trouble to get legally married.

Checks Forged, Claim
The money for the escape, according to the story which was brought to light in the Police court at Manitowoc, was furnished by the young man forging checks, all of this without the knowledge of the Kenosha girl with whom he lived.

The denouement of this little love episode, in which the Kenosha girl figures, came when Teal presented a $16 check in payment for two shirts at the Henry Esch store. Chief of Police Trochell was in the store when the check was presented.

The officer waited until the clerk brought out the change for the check and placed it in Teal's hands. Then Chief Trochell placed him under arrest. "You're wanted for forgery," came from the chief.

Teal in Confession
Teal knew that his game was up and submitted to arrest and before he had reached the police office he had made a confession.

ICE HOUSES ABANDON
HOPE OF 1921 HARVEST

Kenosha. — Proprietors of the big ice house in Kenosha county have practically abandoned all hope of filling them this winter as they say they do not anticipate any zero weather which would be needed to make the harvesting of ice a satisfactory proposition. It was said by them that never before in the history of Kenosha county has there been a time when there has been less natural ice in the ice houses at this time of the year. With the exception of privately owned ice houses at several lakes, notably those which supply ice for the big hotels only, it is said no ice has been harvested.

SOCIALIST CARRIES HIS POINT IN THE ASSEMBLY

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Assemblyman Walter Polokowski, Milwaukee socialist, won a rather unique victory in the lower house Monday afternoon when in the face of the unanimous recommendation of the committee on insurance and banking that it be killed, he induced the assembly by a vote of 53 to 8 to send to engrossment his bill increasing the fee for applications for policies in the state life fund from 25 cents to 50 and 10 per cent of the premium.

Polokowski declared there are only 536 policy holders in the state life fund, only 35 of them secured in the last two years and that it would be better to abolish the fund entirely than to let it lie dormant in the insurance department. "The life fund will never amount to anything, it will benefit no one," he declared, "so long as the state pays but 25 cents for each application. It is worth more than that to make out the application after you have secured the applicant."

He declared the old line companies are paying as high as $20 where he proposes to have the state pay $5. The motion to indefinitely postpone the bill was defeated 8 to 53 and it was then engrossed by a viva voce vote. It is presumed the insurance companies will now make a fight against the bill which has been defeated at every session since the life fund was created.

Small Profits

THE last link in the chain between the oil well and your car is the filling station where you buy your gasoline or the tank wagon which delivers it to your home.

From refinery, to tank wagon or filling station, to consumer, the business of manufacturing and marketing gasoline is conducted on a basis of selling many gallons at a price which gives only a small profit per gallon.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) applies this principle in the conduct of its business.

The ideal of this Company is to manufacture a gasoline of uniformly high quality, to sell it at a price which will permit of universal use, and to maintain a system of distribution so comprehensive as to make it available everywhere.

Only an organization great in ability, and great in size, can give such a service as that provided by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The tremendous volume of business it enjoys has been won through efficiency plus the economy of large-scale operation.

When bigness, efficiency and economy all work together, the result is low manufacturing cost, and low product prices.

Experienced Mothers know the wisdom of assisting nature before Baby's coming

It is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence upon the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman.

Just as she prepares herself for it, so will most favorable conditions prevail when her child is born.

MOTHER'S FRIEND is a balm for the nerves, an intensely penetrating lubricant that softens the muscles, relaxes tension of the delicate organism involved in maternity, and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and practical delivery.

SPANISH SWINDLE OPERATORS PICK AN APPLETON MAN

Citizen Is "Game" and Pays Price of Cablegram to Gain Particulars.

Operators of the famous Spanish swindle are still at work, evidently bent on finding new "suckers" who will fall victims to their game. A well known Appleton man received letter No. 1 of their series in December. Desiring to know just how they operated, he complied with their request to cable a reply, and now has as a souvenir, a clever collection of letters and documents asking $3,000 to aid an imprisoned banker, promising a reward of $120,000, and offering a beautiful Spanish girl of 16 as the rescuer's ward until her father is freed.

Composition of the letters and preparation of documents shows the perpetrators of the swindle to be master crooks. There is hardly a place in the correspondence where a fraud might be detected. The appeal seems genuine and the whole plot is worked out to the last detail. The first communication is only a brief letter. In reply comes a long letter penned by a good writer, printed copies of a newspaper article about the banker's arrest, commitment papers, receipt for baggage and notes containing sailing and cable instructions. The letters all are dated at Barcelona, Spain, and are similarly postmarked.

"Bankruptcy by War" It is explained by a man signing his name as "Roberto de Silva," that he was a banker in The Canary Islands, and that speculations during the war made him bankrupt. Taking $350,000 which remained of his fortune, he fled with his 15-year old daughter to London, where he had two checks made payable to bearer in Chicago, one for $300,000 and another for $50,000. He had a special traveling case made, where he sewed the two checks between the layers of leather.

The story goes on to say that he returned to the Canary Islands to visit a relative and then embarked for Barcelona with his beautiful daughter. Here he was arrested and sentenced to three years in prison. His baggage was seized and placed in government storage under seal, with the important documents containing the two checks. He is informed that unless he pays a fine of $2,500 and court costs by May 1, 1921, his effects will be sold at auction.

Has Friend in Jail At this juncture the supposed benefactor comes in. The faker tells the Appleton man that his name has been secured through a man in prison who is an old friend of the local man. The prisoner's name is not divulged because he is held under an assumed name, but the rescuer would recognize him at once. The puzzle is to prevent the baggage from being sold, thus parting with the checks amounting to $350,000.

A most alluring proposition is made to the Appleton man, who is informed that the incarcerated banker has placed himself at the mercy of his new friend. He asks that the man embark for Barcelona at once, where an arrangement can be fixed up through collusion with a friendly jailer and the baggage obtained. The victim is given full instructions about sailing, copies of cablegrams in Spanish to send from New York and Paris, the train to take to Spain, and the name of the hotel at which to stop. He is to bring $5,000 to cover the fine and court costs.

The jailer will understand that he is ready to deposit the money, and in return for a promised reward of $10,000 will break the seal on the papers and turn over to the victim. He will have opportunity to wire the Chicago bank to ascertain the validity of the two checks, and is then to pay over $3,000 in cash or gold, and in return receive a collection of valuable papers, including the checks enclosed in a sealed envelope.

Concluding the transaction, the victim is instructed to embark for America, taking the daughter with him. He is to go to Chicago, cash the checks and take $120,000 as his reward. He is to give the daughter $10,000 for the jailer and deposit the imprisoned banker's share at 3 or 4 per cent interest.

Numerous people have received the initial letter from these swindlers, but have done nothing further about it. The man who decided to investigate further is believed to be the first Appleton man to send a cablegram. He

Enough Coal Here Now To Keep Warm Until Spring

Hard and Soft Coal and Coke Have Dropped in Price in Last Few Weeks.

While their supply is limited, all coal dealers have enough hard coal on hand to take care of their patrons for the remainder of the winter. It is selling round $19 per ton with 50 cents off for cash, which is considerably lower than it was during the early part of winter when very little was to be had.

All the hard coal now arriving in Appleton is shipped in by rail and if for any reason there should be a shortage at any time there is plenty of soft coal, coke and wood, which have also dropped in price, to take its place.

This is the time of year when delivery of coal is an expensive item for dealers for which they receive no additional compensation. Practically all of the orders are small, often half a ton, which require a driver and motor truck and nearly as much time to deliver as a 5-ton load. The mild winter saved Appleton people thousands of dollars in fuel. Martin McDonald of the McDonald Co. estimated it at $75,000; G. B. Marston of Marston Bros. Co. at 15 per cent; Stephen Balliet of Balliet Supply Co. at from 15 to 20 per cent; and John L. Hettinger of Ideal Lumber & Coal Co. also at from 15 to 20 per cent. Coke is cheaper. At one time coke was about as scarce and high priced as hard coal but the closing down of manufacturing industries released large quantities which are now selling at $17 per ton. Wood is extensively used each spring as well as in the fall, and a great part of that consumed is purchased at local saw mills either in slab or block form. The Balliet Supply Co. makes no pretense at handling wood on this account. The Ideal Lumber & Coal Co. has a great demand for body maple and ships it here from the northern part of the state in carload lots. J. L. Hettinger, president of the company, says there appears to be a scarcity of green maple wood this spring and is of the opinion very little cordwood was cut this winter. For dealers the coal situation will be the coming season none of the coal dealers are prepared to say. New contracts with the miners will not be made until next month and no one will be in position to get lineup on conditions until after that time. Whatever the future has in store, dealers are hopeful that patrons will order their annual supply of coal in time to have it delivered during the summer months when prices are lower than they are later on and when there is less liability of shortage.

SIX DRUNKS WERE PINCHED IN FEB

Police Report Shows Justice Meted to 24 Offenders Last Month.

Bibulous gentlemen who managed to absorb some of the booze remaining in Appleton formed the largest portion of the 24 persons arrested during the month of February and reported by Chief George T. Prim. With 23 days in February, the arrests averaged almost one a day and were scattered over many offenses.

Perhaps the most significant arrest was that of two men recently convicted for carrying sawblowing equipment. One fugitive from justice was turned over to Indiana authorities. The ambulance made only one trip, but the touring car nosed out into the cold 113 times and travelled 591 miles. The detailed arrests were:

Burglary	3
Drunkness	3
Wife abandonment	1
Cruelty to animals	1
Carrying burglary tools	2
Insane	2
Disorderly conduct	3
Statutory offense	3
Forging checks	2
Violation of city ordinance	3

Good Judgment After Eating

Giving the Stomach the Alkaline Effect by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet Is Worth Remembering

You cannot, as a rule, say in advance that this, that or the other food will cause indigestion. Experience has taught most people that even mince pie fits snugly at times while at others a glass of milk raises hobs with the stomach. One good rule to follow is the preventive measure of taking one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals. You thus avoid gasiness, sour stomach, heartburn and such distresses due to indigestion or dyspepsia. These tablets also help to digest the food by giving the stomach the alkaline effect to offset acidity; they relieve the distress when the mince pie or milk should be more than a match for your digestive powers. Get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and note how nicely they seem to calm the stomach when it feels all upset.

WAGES OF SECTION HANDS TO BE CUT, REPORTS SAY

Wages of maintenance of way employees of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad will be reduced April 3, according to information received here. It was said letters announcing the reduction have been mailed to all section foremen in the company's employ. It is understood union officials will offer strenuous objection to this decrease. Reduction in wages of unskilled and semi-skilled employees has been quite general in the last few weeks, railroad men say. The railroad labor board has severely criticized one or two railroads for taking this action without first consulting with employees affected.

PUBLIC BENEFITING FROM PRICE CUTTING

Sugar Magnates Slashing Prices in Effort to Find a Market.

Special to Post-Crescent New York—There's a jolly price-cutting war on between the cane sugar refiners.

Sugar is tumbling toward 23-cent levels. From a record-high price of 23 cents for refined sugar last spring today's price is below 7 cents.

It is no exaggeration to state that the profit has been nearly wiped out on sugar all along the line from Cuban planter to retailer. Refiners are staying in the market at or near a loss merely to keep their customers. And for this same latter reason the price-cutting is on.

The public—especially the large manufacturing plants using sugar—are buying on a "hand-to-mouth" basis.

Certain signs, however, indicate a bottom around 6 cents and then possibly a rise. Cuban raw sugars now are selling around 3 1/2 cents a pound, aboard vessels at New York. This doesn't include one cent a pound tariff duty. At a price of 4 1/2 cents, sugar may leave the refiners' hands at slightly more than 6 cents a pound without any great loss to the refiners.

believes it worth the price of the cablegram to know how cleverly the whole plan is arranged.

COSTS TOO MUCH NOW TO PAVE, TAXPAYERS AVER

The committee on streets and bridges, Aldermen Fose, McCann, Beske, Hansen, McGillan and Laabs, held a hearing in the city hall Monday evening at which all the property owners who had signed the remonstrance against the pavement of Second and Lawrence-sts. were given an opportunity to be heard. Fifteen taxpayers were present and practically all of them based their opposition on the cost of material and high wages and favored the postponement of the improvement for a year. When informed that conditions would be no different three years from now their opposition faded to a certain extent.

200,000 WILL BE HUNTING NEW JOBS

Harding Will Give Gate to Army of Democratic Office Holders.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Washington, D. C.—More than 200,000 jobholders on Uncle Sam's payroll will lose their jobs March 4 or soon thereafter.

Republicans insist they don't care anything about spoils. They say about 450,000 jobs now in the classified service—the "spoils" jobs—will remain unchanged.

But all the jobs that require any independent thinking or that pay attractive salaries—well, yes; they want them, and they mean to have them. Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican leader in the Senate, explains it thus: "The new administration is entitled to have assistants of its own selection and who are in sympathy with it."

As a result of Lodge's guardianship, some 19,000 nominations sent to the Senate by President Wilson remain unconfirmed. Of these approximately 15,000 are appointments in the army, navy and marine corps; 3,500 are of postmasters and the remainder in the diplomatic, consular, public health and other services.

SPRING ACTIVITIES ARE IN VOGUE ON THE FARM

Signs of spring are beginning to appear in the country. Farmers are sharpening fence posts and patching up broken fences preparatory to pasturing their cattle when the grass becomes green. They are also sharpening up their tools for summer use.

Others are repairing and improving buildings. Several farmers near Darby are hauling cinders to their farms for concrete barnyards. Very little plowing probably will be done this spring, because most of it was accomplished last fall when the weather remained mild.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect.

that will protect the children or adults from the pathogenic bacteria that may be found in milk and may produce bovine tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, septic sore throat and forms of intestinal disturbances. Not even certified milk is as dependable."

Dr. Herman Briggs, Commissioner of Health, State of New York:

"Replying to your letter, I would say, in my judgment pasteurized milk is the only safe milk. Even certified milk is more likely to convey disease than a properly pasteurized milk."

"I cannot imagine any progressive municipality at this time, which was properly informed as to the facts, would revert to the use of unpasteurized milk when once it has adopted the other."

John B. Murlin, Department of Physiology, University of Rochester, N. Y.:

"During the past year the Department of Vital Economics has been conducting a milk station in an Italian district in this city and has been dispensing at cost, in co-operation with the Rotary Club of the city, pasteurized milk for the use of children under seven years of age. Altogether some 300 children have been benefited by the station and many of them have shown remarkable gains in body weight and stature. For example, we had at the beginning of the year 54 children who were five pounds or more under weight. At the end of the year only 39 were under weight to this extent. There are many individual cases of children who have made not only their expected growth for age, but have recovered anywhere from two to six pounds under weight. Nothing but pasteurized milk was dispensed. Careful record of the amount of milk taken by each child has been kept and it is found that this varies from 8 to 24 ounces daily."

"We have also many instances of children who were not making the normal growth until milk was started, after which growth was obviously stimulated. If the pasteurization of milk destroyed any of the essential vitamins, these results could not have been obtained."

Dr. Francis E. Fronczak, Health Commissioner, Department of Health, Buffalo, N. Y.:

"We regard the pasteurization of milk so important to safeguard the public health that an ordinance was adopted to make such a procedure mandatory."

"While certified milk is permitted to be sold raw, nevertheless, from our experience, we are satisfied that not even this quality may be considered free, at all times, from dangerous contamination."

"This city, several years ago, experienced several epidemics of scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid fever, traced to raw milk supplies. Since pasteurization of milk supplies in this city has been generally practiced, no such outbreaks of disease traceable to the milk supply have occurred."—The Milk Magazine.

Pasteurization as Health Officials See It

Dr. Edward V. McCollum, Department of Chemical Hygiene, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, who was one of the first to prove, by feeding experiments that milk contained vitamins:

"Pasteurized milk should be safeguarded by prompt refrigeration in the home, in order to prevent staleness which comes with the development of bad flavor. In many cases the bad flavor of milk is due to failure of the housewife to remove the bottles from the doorstep and place them promptly in a cold refrigerator. An hour or two on the door step will frequently cause the development of bad flavor in a bottle of milk."

"No infant will ever develop scurvy if given orange juice or tomato juice, and the feeding of raw milk is by no means a certain safeguard against the development of rickets; rickets, as is generally known, being a disease in which there is faulty bone growth. Bad hygienic conditions, lack of exercise, light, etc., together with digestive disturbances brought on by food which is in bad bacterial condition, are doubtless the main factors involved in the development of rickets."

"I feel confident that those who would now compel the return to the city-wide sale of raw milk are espousing the cause of a policy which would do a great deal of damage."

Lester A. Round, pathologist, Rhode Island State Board of Health, says:

"I, personally, consider certified and pasteurized milk to be the only kinds of milk that can be considered safe."

Dr. L. E. La Fetra, prominent children's specialist, New York City; author of several physician's reference books on Infant Feeding:

"Unless the milk is produced under the very best conditions of medical supervision, it is unwise to have it distributed to the public, especially in summer time, without pasteurization. The advantages of pasteurization for the elimination of dangerous germs in milk far outweigh any disadvantages in the danger of producing nutritional disorders."

Dr. M. J. Rosenau, Dean of Medical School, Harvard University, states: "I regard pasteurization as a sanitary safeguard, and that the benefits far outweigh the few minor objections that have been brought up against it."

Dr. Louis Harris, Director, Bureau of Preventable Disease, New York City Health Department:

"We are facing a condition and not a theory. It is a fact that certified milk cannot be obtained for all the children of any moderate sized community. Further, we know from sad experience attested to by statistics gathered in every city, that the infant mortality rate has been enormous wherever raw milk as commonly sold has been used. We have come to know that pasteurization is a life-saving measure in so far as concerns infants and children who depend upon milk as their chief food. Everywhere the introduction of pasteurized milk must be set the fact that it is the only method, when properly carried out of pasteurization has resulted in an almost immediate and most striking reduction in the infant mortality rate."

H. W. Whittaker, Director Division of Sanitation, Minnesota State Board of Health:

"We believe that the regulations established by your Board of Health calling for the sale of but two grades of milk, namely certified and pasteurized, are correct. The Minnesota State Board of Health, in its regulations, now recognizes only these two grades of milk. There are certain cities in the state which permit, by local ordinances, the sale of raw milk which is not of the grade of certified milk, and which do not require the milk to be pasteurized. This is a condition which it will be necessary to tolerate for a short time, or until improvement can be brought about, but we believe that the two grades mentioned above are the only grades that should be permitted to be sold in municipalities where the proper mechanism is established for the control of their production and sale."

Dr. E. C. Sherman, Acting Executive Officer, Chemistry Department, Columbia University:

"Regarding the advantage of pasteurization, I share the view which I think is now prevalent that, as a safeguard against the possibility of milk-borne infection, it is better that all milk below the grade of certified should be pasteurized."

Dr. D. B. Armstrong, Executive Officer, Health Demonstration of the National Tuberculosis Association, Framingham, Massachusetts:

"I think it is safe to say that the dietary experts are convinced that pasteurization bears no harmful relation to infant feeding. It was once thought to be instrumental in the development of rickets. We now are convinced that rickets may develop in children while entirely breast fed, and that the disease is the result of some essential food element deficiency. On the other hand, pasteurization properly carried out does not injure these growth-producing elements or vitamins in milk. Neither does it deleteriously affect the ash content or food value of milk."

Dr. Julius Levy, Director Child Hygiene Division, City of Newark, N. J.

"My personal experience extending over a period of 15 years has given me no reason for discontinuing the use of pasteurized milk, as during this period I have not had a single case of scurvy. While there was a general opinion that scurvy and rickets frequently followed the use of pasteurized milk, it has been found that if the milk is not held at a temperature over 145 degrees for more than 30 min., there is very little likelihood that scurvy will develop. It has also been proved that this slight chance can be guarded against by the giving of orange juice at the fourth or fifth month."

"Against this slight objection to pasteurized milk must be set the fact that it is the only method, when properly carried out

HILL TAKES TWO FALLS FROM BIG CHICAGO GRAPPLER

Wins First With Headlock and Second With Toe Hold Before Immense Crowd.

George Hill made good his promise to even up his score with Paul Martinson, huge Chicago Dane, when he won two falls from the invader before at least 1,000 fans in the forest may battle ever seen in Appleton. Hill won the first fall with a headlock in 14 minutes and 20 seconds and the second with a toe hold in 17 minutes and 55 seconds. The toe hold was so painful that Martinson called quits after only about a minute of torture whereas he withstood the headlock for nearly eight minutes before his shoulders were pinned to mat.

It was truly a battle of youth and science with brute strength and size, and youth won. Martinson was completely exhausted after the match, in fact he was so tired after the first fall he could scarcely reach his dressing room.

Martinson's noted flying mare hold failed to work. He tried it right from the start and did succeed in catching Hill in three holds before the local man worked out a defense which kept him out of danger. Martinson also evolved a defense for the headlock which worked very well until he was so tired he could not dodge the shifty Hill.

Tries Many Holds

The visitor tried every hold in the book on the home pride and had Hill in a very bad way several times but the latter would break out and come back strong with a headlock. His comeback tactics had Martinson badly worried after the first half hour.

Martinson tried wearing out Hill by jumping on him but gave up the practice when he suffered a nasty spill to the mat because Hill dodged out of the way. He used the body scissors, toe hold, hammerlock, double bar arm, wristlock and headlock without success. Once he had a head scissor and double bar arm on Hill which seemed to be due for a fall but after working around he worked his way out and the next instant Martinson was languishing in a punishing headlock.

The second fall came very unexpectedly. Both men were using the headlock as rapidly as they could be applied. Hill had just broken out of a particularly hard hold and was sitting on the mat with Martinson lying ahead of him. The Dane was reaching for Hill's foot when suddenly the local man grasped the invader's bare toe, applied double leverage and began pushing. Martinson began to white and squirm and after a minute of acute suffering told Referee L. W. Rhodes to give the fall because he couldn't break away. It was a perfect toe hold. Martinson either had to give up or take a chance of suffering a broken foot and he chose the first alternative.

Martinson is Rough

For a few minutes in the second bout it appeared as if there might be a row because Referee Rhodes ordered the men back to the center of the mat when Hill's feet became entangled in the ropes. Martinson was applying a half nelson at the time and objected strenuously to giving up the hold. Hill offered to return to the precarious position in the ropes to satisfy his opponent but Rhodes refused to permit it.

Martinson used all sort of rough tactics after that but they did not worry Hill who always came up smiling and confident. He was in perfect condition and appeared to be as fresh when the bout ended as when it started. Martinson was a very tired wrestler but he was in much better shape than when he met Hill two weeks ago.

The big Dane started rushing tactics right from the start, forcing Hill into a corner where he applied a flying mare hold which was only partially successful. He caught Hill in two more of those holds before the bout was five minutes old but after that the local man played safe. Martinson got a wicked toe hold in the first 15 minutes and hung on for nearly five minutes while Hill squirmed around and finally broke loose. Hill got his first headlock after about eight minutes but Martinson broke out easily and came back with a headlock of his own. The first real punishment the invader suffered was when he was held in a headlock for four minutes, breaking out after a superhuman effort but was so groggy that Hill applied three more in rapid succession. Martinson was not greatly weakened, however, succeeding in catching Hill with a bad head scissor and double bar arm which he held for several minutes. It looked like a win for the invader, Hill narrowly missing a pinning but he finally squirmed out. The finishing headlock came about a minute later. He caught Martinson as they were falling to the mat, rolled over on top of him and hung on until the visitor was so weakened he could not help himself.

The ten minute rest refreshed both men and they went at it hammer and tongs with call of time. Martinson was rushing Hill all around the mat applying wristlocks and half nelsons in rapid succession. The bout finally resolved itself in a headlock test, both men applying them as fast as they broke out. Hill held the advantage, however, inflicting the greater punishment. The headlock was responsible for the final toe hold because it weakened Martinson to such an extent he was groggy and could not dodge his opponent.

OCOONTO WANTS TO GET IN TOURNEY

Appleton High School Basketball Team Ready for Opening Game Thursday.

Selection of teams to compete in a basketball tournament always has been a ticklish job. Oshkosh normal authorities who picked eight teams to compete in the sectional tourney beginning Thursday afternoon have had their share of trouble. The latest howl has come from Oconto where high school authorities, players and townspeople are up in arms because the high school team was not included. Oconto claims to have defeated a majority of the strong teams in the district and believes it is entitled to representation. The tourney officials, however, have not included that squad.

Mayville was admitted to the tournament on its record of victories which does not include any of the larger schools except Wayland academy. Mayville athletic authorities maintain that Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and other of the larger schools have refused to meet them this season and believe they stand an excellent chance in the state meet.

The winner of the Oshkosh tournament will compete with the winner of the other sectional tournaments in the state in a state meet in Madison a little later in the season.

Appleton is set for the game. Coach Vincent will give his men their last light workout Wednesday night preparatory to leaving for Oshkosh Thursday morning. Selection of opponents and hours for playing will be made by the coaches at a meeting at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The first game is scheduled to start at 2:30 Thursday afternoon. Games will be played Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings, Saturday morning and evening.

AYRES SUCCUMBS TO AHREN'S HAMMERLOCK

Eddie Ahrens, Mackville blacksmith, defeated Kid Ayers, New London, with a hammerlock in the first preliminary to the Hill-Martinson match in Armory G Tuesday night. The fall came in 12 minutes and 20 seconds. Ayers said his arm was hurt so badly he could not return for the second bout.

Atkinson, who was booked to meet an Appleton wrestler named Drexler in a one fall match, went on to the mat with Wallschlag of Lawrence college when Drexler failed to show up. Atkinson won from the collegian with a back bar arm and head scissors after about ten minutes of hard work. Wallschlag outwrestled his opponent by ten or fifteen pounds.

Kid Turner won from Young Johnston in four minutes with a headlock. These boys are in the mosquito weight class.

The great energy-food has three flavors!

Which Karo do you like best?

MANY who prefer a rather sweet syrup choose Red Karo, as it gives foods their fullest natural taste. Because it looks like honey, many like it as a spread for cakes and waffles.

Red Karo is a wonderful syrup for sweetening in cooking and baking. Karo-made cakes, cookies and raisin bread are perfectly delicious.

But as a table syrup—with a thick heavy body, that pours nicely, and yet does not soak into the breakfast cakes—you may perhaps choose Blue Karo or Green Karo. Green Karo, with its delicious maple flavor, is made with the highest grade pure maple sugar from Vermont and Canada.

The secret of nutrition in Karo

Perhaps you did not know that you cannot live long without Dextrose. Most foods you eat—such as bread, starchy vegetables, and all forms of sugar—have to be changed into Dextrose before your system can use them as energy foods. Karo is rich in pure Dextrose.

So Karo may almost be said to be a predigested food. These are scientific facts, supported by the very highest medical and food authorities.

Your Protection

Do not be deceived by cans containing syrup that might look like Karo. The name "Karo" is on every can of original Karo—look for it and be assured of full weight cans and highest quality.

BRITISH EXPERT
DERIDES BIG FINEEconomic Advisor to British at Peace Conference Scoffs
at Reparations.

By Milton Brommer
(Special to Post-Crescent)
London—"The German reparations agreement can't be meant any more seriously than the original peace treaty. The thought of two premieres making new life formulas, which they know to be silly, is like a gibbering nightmare."

This opinion, as expressed in the Manchester Guardian, by John Maynard Keynes, British economist and chief advisor to the British Peace Conference, has created considerable stir in England.

It was Keynes who wrote "Economic Consequences of the Peace Conference," in which he panned the decisions arrived at. He calls the reparations proposals "simply another move in a game, by which the players at any rate, are no longer taken in."

GREATEST PASSION IS TO KILL TURKS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York—"Women have a great talent for murder."

Sergeant "Kid" knows. She has killed 75 Turks.

Her name is Kikranouhi Krikorian. She has been sold into slavery, has been an inmate of a harem and is the sole survivor of a family of 25, most of whom she saw murdered.

What does she think of life?

"Give me a gun. I'll show you what I think about life."

Art?

"That is an anger in your heart for beautiful things gone wrong. My art is an anger in me that shall not die, a passion to avenge myself, with sword. It's only fighting that gives me happiness."

Love?

"I shall never let the word pass my lips."

Women in war?

"They should be good soldiers; they are capable of great rage. And there is not a woman living who has not suffered."

For me the army is home, the battlefield my fireside—Death is my father and mother."

She is homesick for the gun and whip she carried as sergeant in the Armenian army. With the first she killed. With the latter she obtained obedience from those under her.

Boy's clothes, says Sergeant "Kid," are the only suitable apparel for women when they have rough work to do.

"Wear 'em when you go out to kill," she advises.

She has been adopted by an Americanized Armenian who would bring her up as a "lady."

Can you picture her in chiffon?

The New Spring Frocks Are Refreshingly Individual

AFTER Winter the crispness of a new taffeta frock, the soft, rippling folds of a Canton crepe, kitten's ear satin or silk jersey, inspire feminine interest in Frocks in general.

Styles are widely divergent, varying from the Spanish silhouette of snug bodice and voluminous skirts to the graceful slim lines of long-waisted Moven Age styles. The Directoire influence is being felt also.

There is a great use of grey, copenhagen, red and rust tones on navy and the effect in both embroidery and appliques is strikingly effective.

The prices this season are lower, beginning at $25.00 and ranging upward to $125.00.

"Just a short time left to win one of five beautiful prizes worth $362.00"

Hundreds of men, women and children have listened to the delightful playing of the DALION. Already it has gained wide popularity wherever good music is appreciated. Some proud home will boast of having won this popular contest and be the owner of this magnificent instrument.

You can enter this contest by merely hearing the DALION played and writing a short hundred word description of how it impresses you. No flowery language is necessary—just plain facts and impressions.

These Men are the Judges

Prof. R. C. Mullenix, Lawrence College W. S. Ford, Vocational School
John R. Riedl, City Editor Post-Crescent

These three men have kindly consented to act as judges. The name of the lucky winner and the prize-winning description will be promptly announced. Whether or not you own a phonograph you are eligible to compete. You will more thoroughly appreciate DALION quality by your own comparison. Purchasers of DALIONS during the period of the contest have the added advantage of true appreciation of its tone qualities. If the winner has purchased a DALION the full purchase price will be refunded or applied to the full value of the beautiful prize instrument.

Come See This DALION

Many people consider all Phonographs alike. The same might be said of pianos. Yet there is a range of hundreds of dollars in price. Tone, action and finish all account for the price. So it is with the DALION phonograph.

It is the combination of beauty in design and cabinet work, selection of the best motor, tone arm and reproducer, an orchestra shell tone chamber of seasoned violin wood, and such little conveniences as the automatic stop and the exclusive patented Auto-File.

These features, in a wide range of instruments, make the DALION what it is. Is it any wonder I take pride in giving this beautiful instrument to the person who best expresses these qualities? It means more in advertising to have everyone know there is such a marvelous machine.

Enter the Contest Before it is Too Late

Don't delay entering this contest. It will not require more than a half hour to hear the DALION played and then with a contest blank, register your impressions first hand. Or carry the blank home with you. I want you to hear the DALION. Some day you'll own one whether or not you are the lucky winner.
